USDC CLERK, GREENVILLE, SC

THE GRAND JURY CHARGES:

1. That beginning in or about April 2011 and continuing up and to the date of this Superseding Indictment, in the District of South Carolina and elsewhere, the Defendants, SCOTT KOHN, FUTURE INCOME PAYMENTS, LLC, JOSEPH P. HIPPI, KRAIG S. AIKEN, and DAVID N. KENNEALLY, (hereafter "FIP Defendants") did knowingly and willfully combine, conspire, confederate, agree and have a tacit understanding with each other and with others known and unknown to the Grand Jury, to devise and execute a scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money and property by means of false and fraudulent pretenses, representations, and promises, and during such period, in the course of executing said scheme and artifice

a. transmitted and caused to be transmitted in interstate commerce, wire communications, including writings, signs, signals, pictures, and sounds, for the purpose of executing the scheme and artifice to defraud, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1343; and

b. deposited and caused to be deposited any matter and thing whatever to be sent or delivered by the United States Postal Service and any private and commercial interstate carrier, for the purpose of executing the scheme and artifice to defraud, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1341.

THE SCHEME AND ARTIFICE

2. Future Income Payments, LLC ("FIP"), formerly known as Pensions, Annuities, and Settlements, LLC ("PAS"), is fully owned and controlled by SCOTT KOHN. PAS was formed on April 13, 2011.

3. During the course of the conspiracy:

- a. JOSEPH P. HIPPE managed and oversaw investor solicitations for FIP products.
- b. KRAIG S. AIKEN served as the controller and later Chief Financial Officer for FIP.
- c. DAVID N. KENNEALLY served as Chief Financial Officer for FIP prior to KRAIG S. AIKEN assuming this responsibility.

4. FIP actively recruited pension holders (described as "sellers" in FIP nomenclature) who found themselves in acute financial distress and were desperate for money. In exchange for the pensioner selling, assigning, or promising to pay monthly pension payments to FIP, the pensioner received a lump sum payment or loan. The adjusted annual percentage rate on these transactions often exceeded 100 percent.

5. The consumer protection authorities of various states have forbidden FIP from doing business in their states based on findings that the transactions with the pensioners lacked the features of a sale, and /or were instead more accurately described as usurious loans, and/or were offered by an unlicensed entity.

6. Many of the pension holders targeted by FIP were veterans of the United States

Armed Forces. Federal law prohibits assignment of such pension payments under 18 U.S.C. § 5301.

7. Working through a network of investment advisors and insurance agents, FIP solicited investors (described as “buyers” in FIP nomenclature) to purchase “structured cash flows” (i.e., pensioner monthly pension payments). FIP represented that its structured cash flows would provide higher rates of return than traditional fixed income products. It further represented that the investors would receive a consistent and predictable income. FIP allowed investors to use nonqualified or qualified (i.e., IRA/ROTH) funds and promised a rate of return of between 6.5 percent and 8 percent based on the term and source of pension funds.

8. In written contracts and oral presentations and in an effort to induce investors to purchase structured cash flows, FIP represented that it had established short- and long-term reserve accounts to mitigate the risk of default by pension holders. In fact, these accounts were not established or funded.

9. FIP took active steps to conceal from investors the usurious nature of its transactions with pension holders to induce investors to purchase the structured cash flows.

10. As state regulators began prohibiting FIP from operating in various states and pensioners struggled under a usurious payment regime imposed on them, FIP diverted new investor funds flowing into the business to fund payments to earlier investors to keep the scheme and artifice operational. In this manner, the investment program operated by FIP was a “Ponzi scheme.”

11. During the course of the conspiracy, FIP used the United States mails to solicit Buyers/Investors and caused investors to transfer millions of dollars via interstate wire communications.

12. During the course of the conspiracy, the FIP Defendants were aware of and/or actively participated in misrepresentations or the concealment of material information from investors and other entities, including, but not limited to the following:

- a. the lack of a FIP reserve fund;
- b. the operation of a Ponzi scheme; and
- c. the usurious nature of FIP transactions with pension holders;

13. The operation of the scheme and artifice surrounding FIP allowed the FIP Defendants to live lavish lifestyles.

14. When FIP ceased doing business in and around April 2018, investors who had been induced to purchase structured cash flows based on active concealment and misrepresentation of material information were owed approximately $297 million.

All in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1349.
